

NEXTGEN NURSE PROGRAMME

NextGen Nurse is a national outreach programme to engage young people in virtual insight sessions and virtual work experience opportunities with nursing ambassadors to promote nursing as an aspirational career of choice. Focusing on young people from ethnic minority backgrounds and particularly young men.

Working with Speakers for Schools, there are several NextGen Nurse virtual insight days happening in June and July – and we need volunteers to help!

Some of the days are focussed on specific areas, working with the Local Enterprise Partnership to help engage less advantaged schools in that area

(but not exclusively, so will likely have students from all over the UK), so would ideally be supported by some nurses connected to the area.

To volunteer to help, or to register your interest in future events, please email england.nextgennurse@nhs.net.

Volunteers are needed for insight days on:

- 14th June – Sussex/National
- 29th June – Dorset/National
- 1st July – Leeds/National
- 6th July – Liverpool
- 12th July – South West
- 29th July – National
- 4th August – National

NextGen Nurse with Speakers for Schools

NextGen Nurse with Speakers for Schools introduced 1,500 young people to the world of nursing through virtual insight days and virtual work experience between January and March 2021. Virtual insight days are a great way to share your insights into the world of nursing and answer questions from interested young people.

About Speakers for Schools

Speakers for Schools was founded in 2010 by ITV's Political Editor Robert Peston, and supported by the Law Family Charitable Foundation, with a mission to help level the playing field for young people of all backgrounds. The charity's aim is to end educational inequality by giving all young people access to the same prestigious networks available to the top fee-paying schools in the UK. It provides talks from influential figures as well as work experiences linking state school students to hundreds of the UK's leading employers. The charity has since expanded its services to include Youth Card, a personalised app that brings the world of curated discounts and life-preparing opportunities to the fingertips of young people across the UK.

To find out more and sign up to the opportunities available, please visit the Speakers for Schools Focus Area on the NHS Nursing Ambassador Hub.
